SHARE A SMILE WITH ORPHANS

Khaliq Ahmad/Habib Abu Omar et.al.

Introduction

Actually, we have learnt lots of theories of management all over this course –Management from an Islamic Perspective. However, we –students- are lacking the skills of how to practice those theories. Therefore, we have planned to come out with this project that made us able to practice the knowledge and also to contribute to the society. Our project is called “Share a Smile with Orphans” where we could at least delight some kids.

Nowadays, the issue of orphans is one of the most critical challenges for Muslims. Many Muslim countries are facing crucial political conflicts. The unrest situations caused by either the external colonization, or the internal tyranny, has resulted in the death of hundreds of people, who are indeed fathers and mothers of other hundreds of hopeless children.

With regard to that, we have planned to give a helping hand to some of those needy children. Even though our contribution is not that valuable in the materialistic measures, it is still an invaluable for orphans as they may find the sympathy and tenderness they miss!

In general, there are few initiatives done by IIUM students in this field. Three years back, Al-Aqsa Friends’ Society<sup>1</sup> has launched its Gaza Orphans’ Sponsorship Project (GOSP) immediately after the end of the Israeli brutal war on Gaza, Palestine. This project has yielded the success over its three years life; it is now fully sponsoring 100 Gazan orphans.

Actually, this is a very advanced project. But, locally, there has been a small project to help orphans in Malaysia. This modest project was done by Ummul-Qura Society<sup>2</sup> last month; it has provided a Myanmar orphanage house with some basic needs that the house was in lack of, such as: painting, pillows, covers and cleaning materials.

On the same pattern, and taking into consideration our limited resources; our project is intended to provide the same orphanage house with the basic needs that Ummul-Qura Society couldn’t provide.

In this project, we are planning to sell some sweets in order to collect donations that may cover the needs of those orphans. This activity is to be accompanied with an awareness campaign on
